

EVIDENCE OF TRANSMISSION

Study Published After September 1, 2022

1. Primary vaccination provides no benefit against Omicron transmission.

Study: Hui, D. Hybrid immunity and strategies for COVID-19 vaccination. The Lancet Infectious Diseases. 23(1):2-3 (September 21st, 2022)

Findings:

- “First-generation vaccine-induced immunity has failed to prevent transmission effectively”

Overall: a primary vaccination series provides no benefit against Omicron transmission
